

The Warner School of Education at the University of Rochester

YOUNG WRITERS SUMMER CAMP

AUGUST 6-10, 2012

The Genesee Valley Writing Project's Young Writers Summer Camp is for students in grades 6-8 who love to write and want to spend time with like-minded peers practicing different kinds of writing. We welcome students who are already good writers, as well as those who want to improve their writing skills. Sign up for one or both sessions.

Session A: Writing Outside the Lines: Creative Writing and Digital Media - 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. ($175)

Explore writing in the digital era using fanfiction, anime, and other multimedia tools as well as regular old pen and paper.

Session B: Writing My Life: Explorations in Nonfiction - 1 to 4 p.m. ($175)

Explore nonfiction writing styles, such as memoir, travel writing, nature writing, and the personal essay to create your own true-life story.

Visit www.warner.rochester.edu/pages/writingcamp or call (585) 275-2616 for details.

WARNER
SCHOOL OF EDUCATION
UNIVERSITY of ROCHESTER